

Facts and interpretations from H. Reg McDaniel, M.D. and Candance F. McDaniel, D.O. This mixture of micronutrients returns to the modern diet vital nutrients once found in the family garden and orchard in a more agrarian society. This is a modern application of ancient nutritional traditions and knowledge of nature. Micronutrients added to the diet are not a treatment and improved nutrition is not an intervention that cures disease. Nutrients and elements supplied in the diet do nothing directly as an intervention to improve health. They are utilized as units to assemble complex compounds that have natural structure and function properties. The genes are coded instructions that control cellular synthesis using elements and nutrient molecules to assemble bioactive structure/function compounds that conduct the biochemistry of life. Molecular structure determines the function of bioactive compounds and this requires a supply of specific nutrients to be present in the diet to properly make such substances. Such normal functions include host defense, repair, recovery, structural restitution and homeostasis, i.e. balance and regulation between all cells that support health and improve quality of life. No single thread makes up the cloth of good health.

Seek pure air, clean water, optimal nutrition with variety, regular exercise of the mind and body that is balanced with rest and relaxation. Avoid toxic substances, bad habits and practices that are threats to good health. There is a vital interaction between mind, body and spirit.

Never take this nutrition on an empty spirit.

DIRECTIONS:

Mix 1 teaspoon in a juice, beverage or food. Mixed with flavors of yogurt are best. (See www.DrReg.com for why.) Take with meals or 30 minutes before meals to reduce appetite or as directed by your health care professional. Add to cereals, soups, stews, puddings or some prefer NEW EDEN sprinkled over salads or vegetables.

Do not use if seal is broken. Store in a cool, dry place. All nutrition have a longer shelf-life, if stored with a tight lid in the refrigerator. Tests report flax and lecithin are stable over 2 years in refrigeration. Keep moisture absorbing packet in canister. High temperature and moisture speed deterioration.

SOLD BY WEIGHT, NOT BY VOLUME. VOLUME MAY VARY. Stir before taking. Ingredients often settle in layers due to different densities and particle sizes.

† These statements have not been evaluated by the Food and Drug Administration. This Product is not intended to diagnose, treat, cure, or prevent any disease.

The principle Structure/Function nutrient ingredient in NEW EDEN is also oligosaccharides utilized in cellular synthesis. Nutrition does not treat, cure or ameliorate disease or improve an abnormal condition. This nutritional formulation improves the content of the urban diet and supports the normal biochemistry of life. No additional representation is made.
